UNION STOCK YARDS MAKE NEW RECORDS IN LIVESTOCK SALES

The Montgomery Union Stock Yards shattered all previous records in 1945 with total sales of all classes of livestock reaching the all time high of nearly 11½ million dollars, exceeding 1944 by approximately 2½ million dollars, and with the total number of cattle and calves handled about 10,000 head greater than any previous year in the history of the yards, according to figures just made public by Glenn T. Stebbins, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the Union Stock Yards Company.

In releasing the figures, which are contained in the annual report of the company, Mr. Stebbins said, "The record of the yards this year is only further proof that Alabama is forging to the forefront in developing livestock production in the South and that Alabama producers are coming more to value livestock, both beef and dairy breeds, as a major source of farm income."

The report states that "producers marketed at the Union Stock Yards during the year 1945, a total of $11,469,116.12 worth of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep, while total receipts of cattle and calves, including through shipments, deliveries at Montgomery and consignments for sale, amounted to $27,890 head, exceeding the largest previous year since the stock yards were opened 28 years ago."

MANY NEW VOTERS HAVE BEEN REGISTERED SINCE LAST JULY

Four hundred and fifty new names have been added to the poll list in Coffee County since the first of July, 1945, according to a statement made Monday by Judge J. W. Brock, who is entering the names on his records, from the lists that have been filed by the Board of Registrars.

The registrars added 237 of these names at a session which ended on February 1, during which time they visited the court house in Enterprise and also in Elba. The others were added at several short sessions during the past six months.

Indications point to a record number of qualified voters this spring, and the list will be published in both of the county papers the latter part of March.

COUNTY HAS HUGE JOB ON HOME REPAIR IN COMING YEARS

More than $740,000 is expected to be spent during the next five years by Coffee County home owners on remodeling and repair work. The year 1946 promises to inaugurate one of the greatest eras in American history for home repairs and modernization, according to estimates released by the Title Council of America.

"Few developments will contribute more to employment and general prosperity in any community," according to R. E. Jordan, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee.

Because of lack of materials and manpower during the war, a majority of the county's 7,712 dwelling units are in need of some kind of repair or remodeling work. Kitchen improvements and modernization of bathrooms and in some homes addition of a second bath top the nation's list of most wanted major improvements, Jordan said.

Outside paint jobs are needed on more than 50 percent of homes, and addition of rooms and construction of porches also rank high in remodeling plans, according to the report. New roofing and heating plants are required by many dwellings. Home owners in Alabama will spend an estimated $68,090,000 and those of the nation more than $5,500,000,000 for major repairs alone in the next five years, according to Jordan. Ample funds at low interest rates are available for such work through commercial banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions and mutual savings banks, he pointed out.

Commencing Thursday, February 7, we will close our stores at 12 o'clock noon each Thursday, until further notice. Our customers are requested to arrange their business accordingly.

Win Alabama 4-H Championships

In recognition of their outstanding 4-H records in food preparation, girls' record, and poultry, three rural girls in Alabama have been named 1945 state champions in their respective club activities. The winners and brief outlines of their records follow:

Mary Hudspeth, 17, of Dothan, was a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Ill., for her achievement in the 4-H Food Preparation Activity. Her six-year record in club work shows that she planned, prepared and served 1975 balanced meals. The girl completed 27 projects, three of which were in food preparation. She served as junior leader three years encouraging younger girls to do better club work.

Mrs. Collier, 17, of Wetumpka, is rewarded for her outstanding "all around" achievements in the National 4-H Girls' Record Activity with an all-expense trip to the Chicago Club Congress provided by Montgomery Ward. During six years in club work, the girl sewed, made over or mended 165 garments, prepared and served 696 dishes, canned 2,356 quarts of foods, dried 126 pounds of fruit and vegetables, made many home improvement articles, raised 1,308 fowl, grew 8½ acres garden and gave 16 demonstrations. She completed 30 4-H projects, and won many prizes on her exhibits. In addition, she served her 4-H Club as president three terms and as vice president and leader one year each. Mrs. Collier estimates the value of her six years in club work at $5,641.92.

Mildred Grimes, 18, of Boaz, is Alabama's first state winner in the new National 4-H Poultry Achievement Activity. The girl's record shows that she raised 400 164 and made a profit of $25.40 on poultry and eggs sold. Mildred was president of her club last year. Four state cowboys who each received a $25 U. S. Savings Bond are: Myra Collier, of Wetumpka; Addison Thompson, Northport; Lester Milne, of Marion Junction; and Joeline Adkinson, Haddock.

OBITUARY—BORDERS

Our hearts were grieved on the morning of November 22nd when we learned of the death of Foster Borders. It was such a shock to his loved ones, that he was killed in a car wreck. He was a taxi driver, of Columbus, Ga.; had been driving quite a while. We hope we will be called, and we will need to live to be ready when the summons comes for us.

It seems so hard to give up our loved ones, those who are so near and dear to us, and we can't understand why one has to go that is in the bloom of life, but Jesus understands. He doth all things well and for the best; He never makes a mistake, and we will understand by and by. The Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord. Weeping, Mother, Did you not know Foster is just sleeping; let us pray to meet him in a better land some day, where there will be no more tear-dimmed eyes, no more sadness or heart aches, but all will be joy and gladness. Let us strive to enter that home where dew drops away all tears. There is a vacancy in the home that can never be filled, but we have to be submissive to God's will and say "Thy will be done."

Foster was a young man, 25 years old. He was born June 7th, 1920, died Nov. 22nd, 1945. He served 4 years, 3 months, 8 days in the Army. He was stationed at Fort Benning, three years. He was married to Miss Agnes Biggs Dec. 31st, 1943. His death was so sudden it was a great shock to every one, but we are never ready to have to part with one of our loved ones.

He leaves to mourn for him, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Borders, Jack, Ala.; one brother, Glen Borders, of Mobile, Ala.; a companion, Mrs. Agnes (Biggs) Borders; and a host of relatives and friends. His remains were laid to rest in Victoria cemetery. Rev. O. M. Fox conducted the funeral. Pallbearers were: Ludwig and Edward Miller, Delma Flowers, Irwin Johnson, Charles Talbot, Weldon Jackson, D. C. Kemp and Sammie Holland, Hayes Funeral Home in Charge.

Sleep on, dear son and husband; undisturbed be thy rest. Our Father in heaven knows best. We will miss you while here on earth we roam, but we hope to meet you in that heavenly home.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By H. H. HARRING, Editor of The Elba Clipper, Elba, Alabama. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for February 10

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

A PEOPLE DISCIPLINED

Temperance Lesson

LESSON TEXT: Numbers 14:11-24. MEMORY SELECTION: For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.—Proverbs 3:12.

Instruction, training and culture, sometimes calling for the touch of judgment or punishment, that the lesson may be rightly learned—this is the meaning of discipline.

It is a good word and speaks of that which is much needed in a disordered and disolute world.

Our lesson tells of God's plan for the discipline of the people of Israel in preparation for their entry into the Promised Land. They were not ready when God first brought them up to it, but through their learning, they did not believe God, so they had to learn the hard way.

One wonders whether we will be wiser than they. America is now in the awful grasp of a post-war wave of careless living, of moral disintegration and of awful dissipation. Alcoholic liquors flow in an uncontrolled flood of destruction. Where is the moral fiber that made America great?

I. There is a Limit to God's Patience (vv. 11, 12).

The background of our lesson is the report of the spies who were sent into the land. All agreed that it was a good land, but 10 of them were afraid of its inhabitants. Two of them, Joshua and Caleb, urged the people to take God at his word and go up to possess the land. But the people rebelled and wanted to turn back to the fleshpots of Egypt.

God had been patient with the people, but the time had come when further patience ceased to be a virtue and would only be indulgence. Then judgment came—and fast!

There is a limit to God's patience with a sinful people. It is almost heartbreaking to think of the possibility that America may all too soon greet its downward course to the point where God says, "It is enough."

II. There is Power in Intercessory Prayer (vv. 13-19).

Moses stepped into the breach and made a mighty and moving plea for his people. He knew the power of intercession and called on God for mercy upon the people. He pointed out that the honor of the Lord was involved in bringing his people into the land. He recognized the guilt of the older members of the nation but asked for another chance for the children. He based his prayer on the known qualities of God, his justice and, above all, his mercy.

Does not this strongly suggest the importance of Christian intercession in the solution of social problems? Prayer accomplishes more than we would ever conceive to be possible. Praying people count with God, and hence they count in the affairs of men.

More Christian people ought to be deeply concerned about the physical, moral, social, political and spiritual ills which are caused by drink.

III. There is Punishment for Unbelief (vv. 20-23).

The pardon of God for the people as a whole did not overlook or wink at the awful unbelief of those who had rebelled against God.

He had not left them without a strong basis for faith in him. Again and again he had made known his might in miraculous deliverances during their days of travel from Egypt. But they simply hardened their hearts in unbelief.

Lack of faith in God is no little offense against him. He has a right to our unquestioning belief and immediate obedience. Somehow we have come to regard it as a special favor toward God if we believe him, when the fact is that unbelief in such a God is definitely and obviously sin.

IV. There is a Reward for Courageous Living (v. 24).

God is looking for men of faith. All through Scripture we find the Lord coming magnificently to the help and blessing of the one who will believe him.

Caleb and Joshua were brought into the land, preserved through all of Israel's wandering, and kept in vigor even to old age in order to enjoy the promised possession (see Josh. 1:6-9; 14:6-12).

Caleb is an example of what courage, faith, self-control—yes, discipline, can do for a man. We need men and women—yes, young men and women with the spirit of Caleb. Social customs of our day encourage self-indulgence. Drinking is on the increase. Moral standards are low and seem to be getting lower.

What shall we do? Teach our young men and women to be men of faith and to discipline their lives in accordance with his word, so that they may be set free for courageous and useful living.

FARM NEWS

BY COFFEE COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE

VETERANS

To enable veterans to enter the business of farming and to establish themselves as farmers, the Readjustment Allowance feature of the G. I. Bill provides financial aid which is being overlooked by many of the veterans who have a farming background. Veterans who are unable to enter other business should investigate this phase of the G. I. Bill.

The county agent or USFS will be glad at any time to discuss this program with veterans.

COTTON

Cotton yields per acre have doubled since 1910, or since the advent of the boll weevil, yet we are not producing the yield and quality of cotton desired by the spinners.

To encourage cotton improvement, the textile association will award a cash prize of $500 to each of the communities in Alabama that does the top job of improving cotton production in 1946. One of these awards will go to a community in each of the four districts of the state.

The background of our lesson is the report of the spies who were sent into the land. All agreed that it was a good land, but 10 of them were afraid of its inhabitants. Two of them, Joshua and Caleb, urged the people to take God at his word and go up to possess the land. But the people rebelled and wanted to turn back to the fleshpots of Egypt.

God had been patient with the people, but the time had come when further patience ceased to be a virtue and would only be indulgence. Then judgment came—and fast!

There is a limit to God's patience with a sinful people. It is almost heartbreaking to think of the possibility that America may all too soon greet its downward course to the point where God says, "It is enough."

II. There is Power in Intercessory Prayer (vv. 13-19).

Moses stepped into the breach and made a mighty and moving plea for his people. He knew the power of intercession and called on God for mercy upon the people. He pointed out that the honor of the Lord was involved in bringing his people into the land. He recognized the guilt of

April Fool Diamond

By RUTH S. MYERS

McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

IT WAS April 1, 1944, when Lieutenant Webster left the jewelry store with the small velvet box tucked securely in his coat pocket.

In private life, Lieutenant Webster had been a salesman and very good one. Perhaps he might have been described as the high pressure type, but, as such, he had netted a nice yearly income and that was "very important" as Lieutenant Webster had not been above pinching a penny and in so doing had saved and invested, and saved and invested he was now in excellent financial circumstances. He had known what he wanted; he had gone after it; and he had got it! In fact he had been so busy getting it that it was not until Uncle Sam called him that he had even taken the time to give much consideration to love.

It was at a USO dance that he met Becky Clark and fell in love very hard and very fast. There was nothing unusual about Becky. She was just a pretty girl with a tender smile and nice eyes. When Jeff put on the pressure he had no trouble at all in getting her to marry him. Life with Becky would be simple and complete.

It was as he passed the dime store with its windows full of April fool cards that he thought about April Fooling Becky. He would buy the most awful looking ring he could find, put it in the little velvet box and give it to her. Then, after a few minutes, he would show her the lovely little quarter-carat diamond, and she would enjoy the joke. It was only the night before that he had remarked: "Since we are about to get married, I thought I would pick out a nice diamond ring to seal the bargain. How would you like that?"

"Wonderful, Jeff!" Becky's eyes were starry. "Are you sure," she had asked, "that you want to wait until the war is over before we get married?"

"I'm positive it's best, honey," he had answered. "But how can we be sure? How do I know you will still want me?" Jeff had laughed delightedly. "Becky, you silly darling," he replied, "this is the old-fashioned, enduring love with us. It will last forever just like the diamond you are going to get. If it will make you feel any better, think of it this way. I'm too conservative a guy to sink a lot of dough in a piece of jewelry if I weren't sure I'd have you to parade it around for the rest of my life!"

"I see what you mean," Becky answered thoughtfully. As he recalled that conversation, Jeff nearly said when she saw the poor little five-and-a-half carat. Of course, she would see through the joke in a minute, but the fun would come when she opened the velvet box. That night there was an air of excitement about Becky that Jeff noticed at once and it pleased him to think that she sensed it and understood the reason. Well, no use putting it off, he thought. With an expansive smile he reached into his pocket and drew out the handsome case. "Here, darling," he said warmly. "This is hardly a surprise and I just know you'll be crazy about it!"

Becky's expression was quizzical as she took the little box and opened it. For a second she stared in perplexity at the trashy-looking ring set in a diamond. "I don't understand," she began, but Jeff interrupted her with a burst of laughter.

"April fool, Becky!" he shouted and he rubbed his finger against the real engagement ring in his pocket. Just a moment more of teasing before he would give it to her. He was enjoying himself so much. "Don't you like my 'fantastic taste'?" he asked. "Didn't I pick out a beauty of an engagement ring for you—at the dime store?"

Becky began to laugh—her mirth was a little forced at first and then was real. "It was more of an April fool joke than you think, Jeff," she said weakly. "At first I thought you had really bought me an engagement ring and that would have been terrible!"

"You mean you don't want one from me?" gasped Jeff, incredulously.

"Of course I do, you goose," Becky chuckled. "I've got one. I picked it out this afternoon—see!" And she held up her hand for Jeff to inspect. "Isn't it just too beautiful, darling?"

Becky continued, "I had it changed to you. It's a full carat white diamond. You've got a thousand dollar investment in me now, dear to come back to!" And Becky put her arm around Jeff's neck and laid her head against his shoulder.

"Oh, Jeff!" she sighed. "You certainly did April fool me!"

"April fool you!" he choked. "Becky, honey, you've got it all wrong. The April fool is on me!"

PROMINENT COFFEE

WOMAN PASSES

Mrs. Selma Qualls, beloved of Coffee County, passed away at the family residence on Kingston, Rt. 1, about four o'clock in the morning, January 26, following a lingering illness.

Although her death was not wholly unexpected, it came as a shock to her loved ones and friends. She was a woman of such wonderful personality and was so interested in things that concerned not only her neighbors but the whole community at large, that she will be greatly missed in her community, for which she had striven for anything that meant its upbuilding, religiously, socially, civically or morally.

Funeral services were held from the Kingston Baptist Church, where she was a member, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and interment was in the church cemetery beneath a myriad of lovely floral designs, tokens of love and respect from her host of loved ones and friends. Rev. J. V. Murphy, pastor, officiated. Music was rendered by a mixed choir. Active pallbearers were: Taylor Perry, Julian McRaney, Emory Baker and Aubrey Simms. Flower bearers were: Mesdames T. E. Wallace, Taylor Wise, Sam Pittman, D. C. Smith, A. A. Foster, J. W. Smith, Tommie Owens and Mrs. Emory Baker.

Surviving are her husband, Charlie G. Qualls; one daughter, Rue Nelle Qualls, of Kingston Rt. 1; one sister, Mrs. Bob Perry, Kingston Rt. 1; and one brother, Gordon Russell, Sanford, Fla.—Opp News.

ALL YEAR PASTURE IS A CASH CROP

A year round pasture system is just as important as any other kind of cash crop, according to J. R. Speed, county agent. Instead of allowing cows to graze on a pasture that is so called only because it is worthless cropland under a fence, farmers are learning what planning and managing a year round pasture system means in terms of cash returns.

Bottom land that is now growing scrub timber and bushes and making no cash income to the owner should be cleared during the winter and summer months, thereby using farm labor in the slack seasons. This type of land will need building up to give good returns through grazing.

Tests by Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station show that potash, lime and phosphorus are needed on most soils. One to two tons of ground limestone per acre should be used to correct acidity. This application enables other fertilizers to be more effective in their action, and with a heavy application of these fertilizers at the beginning or before seeding will give a better stand of plants than on light applications.

Think of your bottom lands for pasture. Remove all trees and brush. Cut the land smooth as possible with a disc and let settle. Just before seeding the land it should be freshened with section 9 harrow or weeder. Seeding may be done with a whirlwind seeder or by hand. Be sure to sow seed as uniform as possible. The seed should be covered very lightly. Pastures are necessary in a sound farm program.

Miss Bonnie Farris, who has been employed at Napier Field, Dothan, left Tuesday for Pensacola, where she has accepted a transfer with Civil Service to the Naval Air Station there.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Antioch Church with Elder Jim Richards officiating. Burial followed in Antioch cemetery. Pallbearers were: Mal Nelson, Lonnie Nelson, Leon Nelson, Laman Sims, Ramon Sims, Jack Nelson. Bonneau-Jeter had charge of funeral arrangements.

Major Ben Mathis and his father-in-law, Mr. A. J. Stonina, of Chitrope Falls, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Moore here last week. They were enroute to Tampa, Fla., where Major Mathis has been assigned for further military duty.
